

Privacy Shield Notice

Effective as of April 22, 2019

MEASURABL INC. AND THE EU-U.S. PRIVACY SHIELD

Measurabl complies with the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield Framework as set forth by the U.S. Department of Commerce regarding the collection, use, and retention of personal information transferred from the European Union to the United States. Measurabl has certified to the Department of Commerce that it adheres to the Privacy Shield Principles. If there is any conflict between the terms in Measurabl's Privacy Policy and the Privacy Shield Principles, the Privacy Shield Principles shall govern. To learn more about the Privacy Shield program, please visit <https://www.privacyshield.gov/>.

Scope. Measurabl collects the following personal information as part of its standard practices. Personal information is used to identify users in our system and ensure they are designated to appropriate roles and to facilitate customer support activities when users need assistance using the Measurabl application.

- Name (first name, last name)
- Company
- Internet Protocol (IP) address numbers — to monitor activity in the Measurabl application (e.g. last log on, frequency of log on, etc.)
- Electronic mail address

Access. Measurabl acknowledges the right of EU individuals to access their personal data. Users can access, correct, and update their personal information by going to their Profile settings and updating their personal information.

Choice. Prior to sharing any information with non-agent third parties, or using information for a purpose materially different than the purpose for which it was originally collected or subsequently authorized by the individual, Measurabl will offer individuals the right to opt out of such use or sharing.

Accountability for Onward Transfer. Measurabl may share personal information with third-party service providers that perform services on Measurabl's behalf. Measurabl does not authorize these third-party service providers to use or disclose the personal information except as necessary to perform services on Measurabl's behalf or to comply with legal requirements. Measurabl maintains contracts with third-party service providers restricting their access, use, and disclosure of personal information in compliance with the Privacy Shield Principles, and requiring the service providers to appropriately safeguard the privacy and security of personal information. In accordance with the Privacy Shield Principles, Measurabl may be liable for any processing of personal data by such third parties that is inconsistent with the Privacy Shield Principles unless Measurabl was not responsible for the event giving rise to any alleged damage.

Legal Requests. Personal data may be subject to disclosure pursuant to legal requests or other judicial and government processes, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements.

Enforcement. The Federal Trade Commission has jurisdiction over Measurabl's compliance with the Privacy Shield.

Questions and Disputes. In compliance with the Privacy Shield Principles, Measurabl commits to resolve complaints about our collection or use of your personal information. European Union individuals with inquiries or complaints regarding our Privacy Shield policy should first contact Measurabl at:
